Why SHE Virtual Recovery Summit?

“ME TOO.”

Those two words of admission started my journey to a lifetime of freedom after nearly a decade of pornography addiction and other unwanted sexual behaviors. It was a long journey, and not always an easy one—but a journey worth every step.

Female porn use is on the rise, but it certainly isn't new. At a time when female addiction was deafeningly silent (16 years ago), I found my own recovery because one Christian woman was bold enough to share her story with me and support me on a path of healing and empowerment. Now, as a pastoral counselor and the founder of Living on Purpose and SheRecovery.com, I have heard the frustrations of women who believe they are unique in their struggle, just as I thought I was in my isolation with porn. But our struggles are not as unique as we might believe.

Even though I have been working with women for over a decade and more women are rising up to tell their stories, female addiction is still not widely talked about. Women still feel alone and not getting help they need. That is what inspired me to create SHE Virtual Recovery Summit, a first of its kind online summit for women who struggle with pornography and unwanted sexual behaviors. And I am beyond proud and blessed to have Covenant Eyes with me in this joint effort:

SHE: Support. Heal. Empower.

That's the resonating message of the SHE Virtual Recovery Summit, coming October 5-9, 2020. 5 Days. 30+ Experts & Storytellers. Free!

I have invited more than 30 women from around the world, experts and storytellers in pornography addiction recovery, to share their stories, their expertise, and their hope for meaningful recovery. With topics ranging from recovery, to trauma and abuse, to identity and shame, to faith, the Church, advocacy, and more. This faith-based, online summit will answer the questions many female porn addicts are asking and lead them safely into the process of recovery.

This summit is also designed for pastors, ministry leaders, and counselors to engage in these issues to serve women who struggle better, including opportunities for Q&A and dialogue.

We are so excited for what this event will do for advocacy, awareness, and above all, support, healing, and empowerment for women. Join us!

Blessings,

Crystal Renaud Day, MAPC
Summit Host, Founder of Living on Purpose
